

The Work of Our Hands: A Prayer & Pottery Retreat

Have you ever watched a potter form a vessel on a wheel? It is almost magical how the formless clay rises up through the potter's hands to become a cup, a bowl or vase. God told the prophet Jeremiah God forms our own hearts like a potter. Connecting with the earth through working with clay is one of the most grounding human experiences.

When clay is worked upon a potter's wheel, we can actually experience the meaning of being centered and formed in God. Come for an overnight retreat with professional potter Mark Schloesser and Mary Testin of St. Anthony's staff. We will explore how life has shaped our spirituality and use clay to express our hopes and dreams on our current journey. We will offer opportunities for everyone to try working on a potter's wheel, and to create some things with clay that will be fired later.
